
Coeur Announces Key Leadership Changes

Chicago, Illinois – December 13, 2018 – Coeur Mining, Inc. (“Coeur” or the “Company”) (NYSE: CDE) today announced that the Company’s Board of Directors (the “Board”) appointed Thomas S. Whelan as Senior Vice President (“SVP”) and Chief Financial Officer (“CFO”), effective January 1, 2019. Mr. Whelan will succeed Peter C. Mitchell, who has served as SVP and CFO since 2013.

Most recently, Mr. Whelan was CFO of Arizona Mining and possesses an extensive background in accounting, capital markets, risk management, financial planning, tax, management and strategy, along with a deep knowledge of the metals and mining industry.

“We are excited to welcome Tom to Coeur as our new CFO,” said Mitchell J. Krebs, President and CEO of Coeur. “Tom brings over twenty-five years of financial, operational and strategic experience that make him the ideal choice for the role. I’d also like to take the opportunity to express my thanks and gratitude to Peter for his significant contributions over the last five years. We wish him well in his retirement.”

Coeur today also announced that the Board appointed Terry F.D. Smith as Senior Vice President of Operations. Mr. Smith was previously Vice President of North American Operations and recently replaced Frank L. Hanagarne, Jr. as principal operating officer of the Company. Mr. Smith will be responsible for overseeing all operational functions at each of the Company’s five operating mines in North America.

“The Company’s operations have experienced substantial improvements over the past five years. We appreciate Frank’s significant contributions to these achievements,” said Mr. Krebs. “We look forward to the Company’s next phase of growth and transformation under Terry’s operational leadership. He has been instrumental to our efforts to optimize and reposition our asset portfolio since joining Coeur in 2013 and is deserving of this expanded role.”
